Broken windows ... in my mind
Shattered dreams ... surround me
My days were numbered
Thoughts of suicide invade my mind
I couldn't stand it anymore
I wouldn't face reality
I'd sit and wonder, thinking of myself
I need someone
Then came the day, you took me by the hand
Hope filled my life, now I'm back to stay

I`m standing on my feet again
Not listening to my thoughts they`ve lied to me
I`m standing on my feet again, I`m standing free

How many times will this nightmare taunt me? I can't believe I almost said goodbye

Now face to face with my own destiny

Is this what I want to be a memory

Or live my life like it was meant to be

I`m standing on my feet again
Not listening to my thoughts they`ve lied to me
I`m standing on my feet again, I`m standing free

I got my back against the wall ...

Nobody can touch me ... no no

My desire to sabotage my existence

Came to an end when I finally realized

So many things in life accomplished

To let it end in a compromise

I`ll choose to live and tell others of satan`s lies

I`m standing on my feet again
Not listening to my thoughts they`ve lied to me
I`m standing on my feet again, I`m standing free
