The Sweetest Gift

Quietly while you were asleep The moon and I were talking I asked that she'd always keep you protected

She promised you her light That you so gracefully carry You bring your light and shine like morning

And then the wind pulls the clouds across the moon Your light fills the darkest room And I can see the miracle That keeps us from falling

She promised all the sweetest gifts That only the heaven's could bestow You bring your light and shine like morning

And as you so gracefully give Her light as long as you live I'll always remember this moment
