Lost for Words

Saga

When the dust had settled near
And the sky had all but cleared
Enough to view my destination
Then I was shown the door
As it turns out it was more
Than just a casual conversation
Led me to this place and...
Somebody saved me
Expecting nothing in return
And somebody gave me
The reason I remain
Forever lost for words
The consequence of fear
Is the need for drawing near
Enough for quiet consolation
And it proves in times like these
There are those who still believe
Kindness requires no hesitation
When your heart has found it's place
Somebody saved me
Expecting nothing in return
And somebody gave me
The reason I remain
So lost for words
(repeat chorus)
