So what's the problem You say you care When they really need you You're not there This isn't something You can rise above Do you wanna help or Do you want the shove You say you need some action You say it's time for a change When I hear you talkin' You sound so lame Don't things look different In the light of day But if you get nothin' You got nothin' to say Blue sky's today You talk about tomorrow like it's just another day No more to say Don't tell me you care then look the other way Mind over matter If you don't mind it really doesn't matter Just don't waste my time Mind over matter If you don't mind it really doesn't matter You're wasting precious time Say you've got the answer You know what to do You're such a fancy dancer Who's payin' you There's such a fine line Between love and hate You won't know the difference Till it's too late What's the problem You say you care When they really need you You're not there This isn't something You can rise above I hear you talkin' But it's not enough
