Worry Not

Sage Francis

Worry not, keep your stress in check Anxiety's a disease, you gotta learn to live with it Cancer spreads, it'll eat right through There oughta be a quarantine for people like you

I keep clenching my jaw while I sleep I ain't got no dental insurance, so I purchased a mouth piece It helps me collect all my teeth, coz they keep falling out in my dreams Repeating each step till I'm knee deep in sweat Till you need deeper sleep between sheets who need sex If you need to eat meat then just feed on the flesh If your will power's weak seekin' ye shall find death It'll rent it'll lease it'll own you You can't teach new tricks to no old fool I've been banned from the bible But I stand on my own two Runnin from something my legs have no clue Bur nin through every last nerve that I got This condition is more than deserved but I'm not Killing the time I'm ringin' it's neck Chokin it out and I'm stealin' its breath Sucking it in and then blowing a kiss To the caution I tossed to the wind like this

Worry not, keep your stress in check Anxiety's a disease, you gotta learn to live with it Cancer spreads, it'll eat right through There oughta be a quarantine for people like you

Oh you're scared of the dark? then sleep in the light You came for the bark but then leave when I bite? Breakin' a sweat, Your faint and awake wit a fang in your neck And a pain in your chest Losing your power your drained and your wet When you threw in the towel I caught it like rent That was well played - you ain't self made You went from daycare to preschool from K-12 grade And that's hardwiring in your brain Not to mention the rules or the house where you stayed Synagogue mosque or the church where you prayed As a child tamed like your wild! Reprogram - DEPROGRAM There aint nothin they say we don't know man They been preyin on vulnerable people And claimin that everything in us is evil I see them in hell then - but until then You should chill friend (Just chill!) Play pretend with the forces of organized Superstition and get played in the end We were killing the time I was ringin' it's neck Chokin it out and then stealin' its breath Sucking it in and then blowing a kiss To the caution I tossed to the wind like this
