

Hot Night Crash

Sahara Hotnights

We've been here before
We're stuck and I'm halfway through your door
I've said it before Listen, this is the last time we won't fool ourselves no more
Been at it for days
We are brand new but we're already set in our ways
I find it hard to believe we fall to pieces way too easily

Got our hands on the action we've been trying really hard to find Since we got stuck on all the love and affection
It's getting harder for us every time
I wonder why we have to tell each other lies
Maybe our heartache never dies with the hot night crash
You'll hear it tonight

Some call it doubts
Too hard to tell me it's all over and out
In the back of my head
I heard you say it
Tried to beat you to it instead
Wish I could be sure that we don't work Could I leave you and all your...
Halfway through the door
My eyes shut my shoes nailed to the floor

Give us something worth saving when we're done crying
This time I couldn't keep him and I wasn't trying Oh baby drop your worrying it's over and now we don't need any time to recover
