

This City's A Mess

Said the Whale

Wake up when it's dark outside, making small talk with the sky
again
Catch a snowflake on my tongue, make a wish that daylight comes
again

Poke my nose out through the blinds, hope to god it sticks this time Daylight breaks and sun comes up, watch as our white Christmas turns to mush

Baby with the snow outside, it's just you and me and no one else Talk about the years gone by, ain't it such a shame how time flies...

This city's a mess.
