

Love Song

Saint Lu

You're speaking my mind
You're there all time
Way-out and aware
But I can't tell ya I care

You are so divine, while I'm playing sublime
But do you see the sign? I know you do

I know I'm not fair
But thrilling I know you knew

This is a love song yeah
Trying to sing a love song to you
This is a love song yeah
Trying to sing a love song to you
There was so much time I was wasting on a rhyme
I almost wrote an essay
But there's too much love for a little love song to embody

Jeez! Like a mime
You're raising my smile
And tempting me to declare...
But I wouldn't dare

You are so in time, while I am buying mine
But there's a sign, do you see? Yes you do

You're making me numb like wine
Addictive and so damn fine
You're topping up, it's a crime
You know I knew

This is a love song yeah
Trying to sing a love song to you
This is a love song yeah
Trying to sing a love song to you
There was so much time I was wasting on a rhyme
I almost wrote an essay
But there's too much love for a little love song to embody

Lately breaking down, I'm shaking
Up the wall, down again, thinking
Did you fall?
I'm squeezing all of my friends, yeah

This is a love song yeah
Trying to sing a love song to you
This is a love song yeah
Trying to sing a love song to you
There was so much time I was wasting on a rhyme
I almost wrote an essay

This is a love song yeah
Trying to sing a love song to you
This is a love song yeah
Trying to sing a love song to you
There was so much time I was wasting on a rhyme

I almost wrote an essay
But there's too much love for a little love song to embody
