

Confession

Salem

Fold up my thoughts, tuck the away,
Drink for the pain, drink it away
Turn the key that hides
The devil's tongue, the vicious side
The surgeons cut is fine,
These wounds may heal in time,
But still the edges fray
And when she's gone, I know she's safe!
The walls are caveing in,
To crush the state I'm in
So sook the noose with my lies and my shame!
Dissapear from sigt, to make all things right (...and my shame!
)
We filled our days the same
We shared a sacred thrust, I cast it into flames
Revealed a fragile hide,
My selfcious ways killed her inside!
So turn my picture down
In days I'll leave yhis town
And when I do, you'll stay
Cause when I'm gone, I know I'm safe!
