Faultline

Saliva

Waiting on your heart has got me walking on my guard
I see you, I see you waiting on My God has got me watching all the stars
I see Him, I can see Him

And being alone, it's no one's fault
And dying alone, it's no one's fault
And being alive, it's no one's fault

Waiting on my God has got me watching all the stars
Waiting on your heart has got me walking on my guard
I see you on the street and as I watch you pass me by
When you look at me and smile you might as well spit right in m y eye

And being alone, it's no one's fault
And dying alone, it's no one's fault
And being alive, it's no one's fault

(Dying alone is sin)
Oh, it's alright
Being alone is sin

And being alone is no one's fault
And dying alone is no one's fault
And being alive, it's no one's fault
