

The Power

Samantha Fox

In the morning I put on my make-up to hide the sadness deep inside

This face of many can't hide those tears
Re-living broken years

I guess it's just the same for you

You gave me love, you gave me pain
You gave me everything again
You gave me love, you gave me pain

You've got the power
You've got the strength inside to make a change
There is a love out there that stays the same
You've got the power
You've got the power

Without warning
I stumbled blind; I fell into the night I couldn't feel to fight
In this moment
I couldn't give a damn the lies you speak
I wouldn't care if you were faking me

I guess it's just the same for you

You gave me love, you gave me pain
You gave me everything again
You gave me love, you gave me pain

You've got the power
You've got the strength inside to make a change
There is a love out there that stays the same
You've got the power
You've got the power
