

Why don't you be a man?
Hold that thought and don't say you don't understand
If you got a medal, take it in your hands
We both know the situation
Where'd you get your education?
Oh oh, take a stance
Stop the second guessing, you're switching too fast
Make your mind up while I'm giving you a chance
Why, you know the situation
Try so hard and you're related

Somebody's got a little secret
Somebody doesn't know I know it
You think you'd be breaking my heart
You think it's breaking my heart
Don't waste your time trying to deny it
What you're trying to hide is out the closet
You think you'd be breaking my heart

Set it free, truth
It always comes to light eventually
I just need to hear a clear apology
I'm not blind no, I'm just waiting
Hurry up, you're hesitating
And yeah, yeah I always knew
Your games was for two
And yeah, yeah I always knew
I was too good for you
So I'll just let you pass
But now I'm tired of confrontation
You're the cause of my frustration

Somebody's got a little secret
Somebody doesn't know I know it
You think you'd be breaking my heart
You think it's breaking my heart
Don't waste your time trying to deny it
What you're trying to hide is out the closet
You think you'd be breaking my heart

Forever and a day is what we used to say
But I guess it meant nothing real to you
There's nothing left to do cause I'm so over you
It's so funny to me, you think it's breaking my heart
You think it's breaking my heart

Somebody's got a little secret
Somebody doesn't know I know it
You think you'd be breaking my heart
You think it's breaking my heart
Don't waste your time trying to deny it
What you're trying to hide is out the closet
You think you'd be breaking my heart
You think it's breaking my heart
You think it's breaking my heart
