

Rain

Samantha James

Only I can write the story, only you can draw the line
Only time can know the distance between your world and mine
If you gave me a million reasons I could never tell you why
I can't say what I believe in, I just feel it inside

And as the rain falls I listen
To the rhythm of your heart
Though we may never be together again
I know we'll never
I know we'll never be apart
Never gonna be apart

All I have left is a picture, all I have left is your name
I burn a candle beside my window that's reflected in the
When it's hard to find a way home just keep this in mind
If you live inside the moment, you'll know love's alive

And as the rain falls I listen
To the rhythm of your heart
Though we may never be together again
I know we'll never
I know we'll never be apart
Never gonna be apart

Ladadada dadadada
Never gonna be apart
Ladadada dadadada
Never gonna be apart
