

Breathe

Sámer Issa

Love, love is as vital to life as air, you've got to have it.
Love, love is all around you everywhere,
reach out and grab it.
But when you get it,
give it all away,
and here's the reason why:
If you hold your breath and keep it all inside,
you know you're gonna die.

Breathe, let the love flow in and out of you.
You'll see the miracles that only love can do.
Open your heart to the world,
(Open your heart, open your heart,)
don't hide it away.
(open your heart and let it breathe.)
Breathe to the rhythm of life,
(Let love in, let love out,)
the beat of give and take.
(let love flow, and you will see.)

Let it in,
and let it out,
and let love flow,
that's what it's all about.
Come to me, it's easy,
you will see,
Only thing you have to do is breathe.

Open your heart to the world,
(Open your heart, open your heart,)
don't hide it away.
(open your heart and let it breathe.)
Breathe to the rhythm of life,
(Let love in, let love out,)
the beat of give and take.
(let love flow, and you will see.)
