

Blind Eyes

Samhain

Use the words, and see the present
Review your past and taste again the agony
But don't look for a future, look for yourself
Feel your pain and go inside you

Visit the black and dirty holes of brutality
Try to show the World all that sweeping things
Than you fall and break to the point
That all the affliction in you Heart
Become a feeling of pleasure

Open your eyes and see the sun
See the end of your regrets
See how the Light die in your eyes
Let the darkness condemn your life

But don't look for a future, look for yourself
Feel your pain and go inside your mind

The darkness of the Light
Crashing through my Heart
Die before I hide
Bring me back to life

Now realize a blind abandon to your anger
Without reasoning but away your consciousness
Try to hate, try to love, just can't still stand
Tomorrow will be a new day to devalue you

Now it's time to take mephisto to your mind
Always remember he's the one to take your life
It's under my skin, inside my heart, just can't still stand
Deadly sensations burning me inside this soul
