

Revelations Of A Dream

Samhain

When we wake up
This World is nothing as it seems
When we break up
We lose control bizarre insanity

And when we cry
Just scream for help (but) there's no one there for me
And when we die
We buy our way into hell's eternity

Just want to control my life
Just want to see through reality

Searching consciousness
In my dreams
Endless maze inspiring me fear
We're unlocking doors, without a sense
Finding demons in my head

When wake up
Our dreams come crashing down on me
And when we brake up
We lose the rest of our humanity

And when we see
The blood, the flesh, the bones don't let me be
And when we hear
The sound disturbed my self-made reality

Just want to control my life
Just want to see through reality

Just want to see through reality
