How Long

Samiam

the corner store is out of your brand of cigarettes the rain ha s stopped and left the dark grey sidewalks wet twice burned you 're saying things that you would like to forget it's been a whi le since you lost your confidence a nervous smile an empty plac e you watch the floor i hesitate how long does it take to know it's not just circumstance how long should i wait knowing there won't be another chance too much too late an empty place you w atch the floor i hesitate there's nothing left to see see my ey es closed in fear tell me what i want to her how long does it t ake to know it's just circumstance how long should i wait knowi ng there won't be another chance too much too late an empty pla ce you watch the floor i hesitate there's nothing left to say s ee my eyes shut with fear can you tell me i'm not really here h ow long does it take to know it's just circumstance how long sh ould i wait knowing there won't be another chance too much too late an empty place you watch the floor i hesitate how long