

Lullaby

Samiam

Wake me stop me from shaking
I never want to dream that dream again
I'm tired of the lullabies you sing me
I wish I could get them out of my head

See how far from home I've drifted
I don't revolve around you no more
You act like I've been drawn away by another distant star
But you know you cast me off yourself

We don't always keep our promises
I don't want to be tied down
Some dreams never make any sense
At least they don't make sense to me
They don't make sense right now

Did you think that I was faking
When I said I couldn't take it anymore
In the world you're making
There's no room for anyone but yourself
