through the street lights and forfeited lanes with a trunk full of everything that we could get there is a place that's safe for those who know no better that's where we keep our hideout hidden we're travelling destinationless with an open ticket for a one way trip free of any expectations and careless while they crack that whip if the sun won't come up tomorrow this is where i want to be no way of knowing how much time you have borrowed i try to keep mine free we're travelling destinationless with an open ticket for a one way trip free of any expectations and careless while they crack that whip what would you decide when ignorance can be such bliss you see a car full of zeros destined to die unsatisfied i don't need to know where we going i can still enjoy the ride we're travelling destinationless with an open ticket for a one way trip free of any expectations and careless while they crack that whip what would you decide when ignorance can be such bliss
