Take Care

Samiam

I hope you got the help you needed I'm so sorry for the way I treated you Didn't know you were so defenseless If you don't regain your senses someday soon

If you come down I hope you land safely I know you think the world's fucking crazy but it's you Maybe you went home to your family If they exist never know how much of what you say is true

Who'll take care of you Who'll take care of you Who'll take care of you When no one else will Never thought you had a thing worth breaking Don't know how I ever could have been so cruel You needed to be protected But once you make up your mind there's no persuading you

Who's gonna take care of you Who's gonna take care of you Who's gonna take care of you When no one else will
