Tell Me a Story

Samiam

So now I know you have to say what's on your little mind And I always have to hear from someone else All your stupid lies come on now and look at me you'll see I'm okay

It's story time now time for you to show your shallow existence

It doesn't add up too much your junior insecurity Now I see that you're afraid of me