

Run For Your Life

Sammy Hagar

There's a line for every lover
In the makeup on your face
There's a look in your eye as you realize your fate

And you've a mind to rediscover ho we're half way thru the race
And the neon lights keep calling you to this place

Run for your life, girl
The band has packed away
You better run for your life, girl, get away

Run for your life, girl
The band has moved on
You'll be runnin' for your life from now on

Well, your nights were filled with laughter
Now your days are fallin' rain
And your wondering when those stars are gonna shine again

You've got photographs to remind you
Of all the faces that you knew
But I'm sure they've got no time to think of you

Run for your life, girl
The band has packed away
You better run for your life, girl, get away

Run for your life, girl
The band has moved on
You'll be runnin' for your life from now on

Hey Little Miss Lonely, though your world is falling apart
You've got a feeling inside you and loving in your heart
Hey, Little Miss Lonely, don't you waste your life away
You put the bad times behind you, tomorrow's a brand new day, yeah

Run for your life, girl
The band has packed away
You better run for your life, girl, get away

Run for your life, girl
The band has moved on
You'll be runnin' for your life from now on

Miss Lonely
There'll be better days and you can find the way
Oh, Miss Lonely
There'll be better ways, and you can find them, someday

Run for your life, girl
Run for your life, girl
Run for your life, girl
Run for your life, girl
