

The Love

Sammy Hagar

Every face I see reminds me of you
Nothing I can touch feels the way you do
Knowing you are mine is the best thing in my life
Baby, I'm alive completely

This is the love
This is the love
This is the love
The love you've always dreamed of

This is the love
The hand that fills your cup
The wings that lift you up, so high, so close
Two can be as one
This is the love
This is the love

Everyone has something no one else can see
Every breath, every touch, every heartbeat's given me
The feeling that I've known you in another place in time
A transcendental doorway opens up and hand in hand we shine

And if I'm down, she will stand there tall
To hold on, hold on
And if you're down, I will build a wall
Around you to hold you
I'm so glad I found you

This is the love
This is the love
This is the love
The love you've always dreamed of

This is the love
The hand that fills your cup
The wings that lift you up, so high, so close
Two can be as one
This is the love

The love

This is the love
(Every heartbeat, every shadow, every mountain in the morning)
This is the love
(You can touch me while I'm dreaming, this is the love)

This is the love
(Every evening in my bedroom, every ocean past the moon)
The love you've always dreamed of
(And every sunset rise above, this is the love)

(Every heartbeat, every shadow, every mountain in the morning)
'Cause this is the love
(You can touch me while I'm dreaming; this is the love)
(Every evening in my bedroom)
