Hey Wait

Sanctus Real

So confined to the fear that you hold on to Time unwinds and nothing seems Promised you

Hey wait, I want to take you for a ride Hey wait, I want to catch you While there's time

Who'll(I'll) pick you up when there's no one Around? Who'll(I'll) hold you up when your heart Hits the ground?

So defined by a love that has fallen through But hope is kind When you hope in something You know is true

You're tired and you can't take Another time around You know it's hope I'm holding So I hope I've found you in this
