

I Love You

Sanctus Real

Can I look past the cliché
In every moment?
Can I learn to be amazed by You?
Can I find a simple way to praise you,
Even if it's already used?

Can I put my pride aside
And learn to sing in time
With someone else's praises (phrases)?

I love You,
I love You,
I love You,
Nothin' new

Can I accept that in a world of changes
You're not impressed with something new?
If I don't understand the language
Of a heart that's after You?
