

Sun Comes Crashing Down

Sandi Thom

I never thought a love like this could ever be true then i came alive came alive when i met you I never knew a love like this could heal wounds but now I don't cry don't cry since i met you til the moon doesn't shine, til the very end of time i will wait for you to return even oceans apart couldn't change whats in my heart i will wait for you til the sun comes crashing down see the white dove and my stallions soarin round and it goes high, goes high, high above the ground now that you're so far away and scared that time will change so much another night falls down on us until the moon doesn't shine til the very end of time

i will wait for you to return even oceans apart couldn't stop what's in my heart
i will wait for you til the sun comes crashing down

I never let you feel alone Oh no I'll never let you shed a tear I'll give you anything you want and more I'll be there until the last levy goes down in the night i'll be there by your side It feels like rain, feels like rain

Until the moon doesn't shine
Til the end of time
I will wait for you to return
Even oceans apart couldn't change what's in my heart
I will wait for you til the sun comes crashing down
The sun comes crashing down
