

Today

Sandie Shaw

Today, there is something on my mind
You said that I'm not really your kind
So long it was good while it lasted
Today I can do without today, tomorrow may be better

Today, I'm thinking what you told me
Go away there is nothing to hold me
Tears didn't help now
Today I can do without today, tomorrow may be better

Last night I spent the whole night crying
I don't think I'll ever sleep again
Last night I thought that I was dying
I don't think I'll ever sleep again
But today I'm just left with the memory
No chance that you come back and want me

Because someone else is in my place
Today I can do without today, tomorrow may be better
Today
Today
Today
