

Nothing Else Matters

Santa Esmeralda

You call and then nothing else matters even knowing tomorrow
you'll be gone when I need you.

Inside, I know nothing else matters and the time if I'm lonely I still can live without you and and you tell me you love me

Only yesterday I swore I would leave but now nothing means anything when you're here with me.

I'll stay because nothing else matters and if I had to share you at least some times I'd hold you

Just smile and then nothing else matters all the tears I've been crying dissapear when I see you and you tell me you love me.

Only yesterday I swore I would leave
but now nothing means anything
when you're here with me.

When the morning comes I'll wake up alone and I feel the hurt inside me seeing that you're gone.

I love you and so nothing else matters and the times that I'm lonely I'm still dreaming about you.

You're here and now nothin else matters
and you tell me you love me
even knowing tomorrow
you'll be gone when I need you.

You call and then nothing else matters
and if I had to share you
at least some times I'd hold you

You're here and then nothing else matters and I'll love you forever and I'll wait here to hold you for the rest of my life.
