The Nile

Santana

Woke up into a dream
And I was walking
Up and down the streets
Of Cairo

And then I heard a voice That said I know you It's time for you to turn And face me

Her hair was long
Her eyes reached out and touched me
She said I know just
What it is you're after

Death is all around you So you look for freedom I know where to find it Let's go to the river

We sailed upon the Nile
I was enchanted
By the beauty in her magic
She showed me that my fears were unimportant
And then she touched me
With her vision

Her skin was dark Her voice was liquid fire She said I am your mate And soul's desire

Love is all around you Light is deep within you Life is always flowing Let's go down the river
