You Know That I Love You

Santana

Yesterday, I was alone and blue My heart was heavy and then came you Oh, I can see! That you were meant for me Now, I have found you, I'll never let you go

You know that I love you, I need you You know that I'm caring, sharing everything I've got Don't you know that I want you? I need you too I will be happy with you for the rest of my life

Many lovers they come and go But your sweet loving lingers on and on Oh, I can feel! That this time it's for real So, hold me closer and never let me go

You know that I love you, I need you You know that I'm caring, sharing everything I've got Don't you know that I want you? I need you too I will be happy with you for the rest of my life I will be happy with you for the rest of my life

Well your sweet love is all I need Without you I just can't go on

You know that I love you, I need you too You know that I'm caring, sharing everything I've got Don't you know that I want you? I need you too I will be happy with you for the rest of my life I'll be happy with you for the rest of my life I will be happy with you for the rest of my life
