

Changing

Saosin

You fall apart each time you start to say goodbye
But there is nobody watching
(nobody watching)
You've lost your grip, you start to slip but don't know why
And this is just the beginning
(just the beginning)
You had the hopes to make it last, it's moving fast
And now you're realizing
(realizing)
That in the past the dreams you had make people feel
Like you were just reciting
(just reciting)

Bathing in the afterglow
A chance at luck and pride
Where we end up we can never know
And all I know is we seem to be

Changing, better to turn and walk away
Fading, all these lights just turn to grey
Changing, better to turn and walk away
But the strange thing
Is that I don't feel a thing

This is an act, stop holding back the things you lost
Cannot replace what's missing
(replace what's missing)
And from the start you played the part and now your heart's
Become a great deception

Bathing in the afterglow
A chance at luck and pride
When we end up we can never know
All I know is we seem to be

Changing, better to turn and walk away
Fading, all these lights just turn to grey
Changing, better to turn and walk away
But the strange thing
Is that I don't feel a thing

One last breath to say goodbye
I tell myself another lie
Stripped of all I hold so dear
The moment's lost and I am sinking down lower
I drown myself in the water
And I am watching my life pass before my eyes
It comes as no surprise

You fall apart and then you stop
You fall apart and then you stop
You fall apart and then you ..
Stop!

Changing, better to turn and walk away
Fading, all these lights just turn to grey
Now I'm changing, better to turn and walk away

But the strange thing
Is that I don't feel a thing

You fall apart and then you stop
You fall apart and then you stop
You fall apart and then you ..
Stop!
