

Feels Just Like a Love Song

Sara Evans

It's always been inside my head
Suddenly its hardwood floors and feather beds
And Children laughing, running up and down the stairs
It would be heaven without going nowhere

And when a dream starts coming true
It feels like destiny like I already knew
Like you were meant for me and me for you
And it feels like I'm right where
I've always belonged
And it feels just like a love song

Da.Da...

The way we talked the way you smiled
You kissed my lips it drives me wild
I never knew until I felt your touch
That I could need someone so much

And when a dream starts coming true
It feels like destiny like I already knew
Like you were meant for me and me for you
And it feels like I'm right where
I've always belonged
And it feels just like a love song

Till I'm waving goodbye
It's all blue skies
It feels like coming home
And it feels just like a love song

Feels like destiny like I already knew
Like you were meant for me and me for you
And it feels like I'm right where
I've always belonged
And it feels just like a love song

Da Da Da
Feels just like a love song...
