

Honesty

Sara Groves

Here in the stillness
Where thoughts are born
Here in our frailty we're tattered and torn
Tattered and torn

Here in confession
Here in our mess
Here in the places we're mostly undressed
Mostly

Oh honesty
Oh honestly
The truth be told
For the saving of our souls

Here in the corner
Where we craft our pain
Here in the open we're laying our blame
Laying our blame

Here in the hallway
Here behind doors
Here in the places we wage our private wars
Wage our private wars

Only the truth and truthfulness can save us now
Only the truth and truthfulness can save us
Only the truth and truthfulness can save us
Can save us now
