

Undone

Sara Groves

Baby, can you help me get undone
The party is over and their hearts were won
There's a zipper in the back
But I can't reach it on my own
And I am dying to get out of this so

Baby, will you help me get undone
I don't even remember how I got this on
I started out pretending
Now I don't recognize myself
And I could use a little help

You have no pretenses
All your walls are fences
I can see right through
You have no two faces
You know where our place is
And that's why I need you
Oh baby

Baby, will you help me get undone
I truly believe you are the only one
Who will be the best reminder of
Where I am coming from
So if you'll help me now
I want to get undone

'Cause I started out pretending
Now I don't recognize myself
And I could use a little help
Oh baby, oh baby, oh baby
Will you help me get undone?
