

Without Love

Sara Groves

You can rise in the halls of power
You can speak to the masses
You can heal their disease
You can stand as the man of the hour
You can bring them to their feet
You can bring them to their knees

Without love I have not
Without love, without love
Without love I have not
Without love, without love
Without love I have not
Without love

You can fall on the blade of the martyr
You can give all your possessions to the poor
You can tell all you've seen of the future
Predicting every famine every war

Without love I have not
Without love, without love
Without love I have not
Without love, without love
Without love I have not
Without love

Love always protects, love always trusts,
Love always hopes the best for us
Love is slow to anger, love isn't proud
Love never fails, love will never fails us

Uuuu....

Without love I have not
Without love, without love
Without love I have not
Without love, without love
Without love I have not
Without love

Without love I am nothing
Without love I am nothing
Without love I am nothing at all
Without love I am nothing
Without love I am nothing
Without love I am nothing at all
