

Kiss A Cowboy

Sara Storer

I been lonesome, I been blue
This old ghost town, brings nothing new
Dusty north winds blow my tears away
I just want to kiss a cowboy tonight

The rodeo is back in town
Maybe this time, I'll turn it all around
No more sorrow, I'll leave the blues behind
Cause I just want to kiss a cowboy tonight

He's standing there, he looks my way
My eyes start talking, what I want to say
I move on over, I'm by his side
Saddle up, open gate, hold on tight

The rodeo is back in town
Maybe this time, I'll turn it all around
No more sorrow, I'll leave the blues behind
Cause I just want to kiss a cowboy tonight

But as my lips move to hang one on
He steps aside, to the pretty blonde
And I'm still lonesome, I'm still blue
And my poor heart is breaking in two

Til the rodeo is back in town
Maybe next time, I'll turn it all around
Then no more sorrow, I'll leave the blues behind
I just want to kiss a cowboy tonight.

Yes no more sorrow, I'll leave the blues behind
Cause I just want to kiss a cowboy tonight
