Sarah Bettens

Go

This is when the wall comes down This is when I give myself To every inch of me that says It's time to go

The voice is clear but not alone Doubt has made my head it's home And I can hardly hear myself explode Someone tell me something good Something I can really use

Here I go, say goodbye to everything I know Here I go, I love you till the end of time I have to do this on my own So here, here I go

On the edge of everything The start, the end, the in between But somewhere through my fear I know I'm fine

Nothing like the way it's been An open door I've never seen And I can't help but wonder what's inside Someone tell me something good Something I can really use

Here I go, say goodbye to everything I know Here I go, I love you till the end of time And I have to do this on my own So here, here I go

Sure I guess I must be strong But what if I am just very wrong And what if I don't know Where I belong

Here I go, say goodbye to everything I know Here I go, I love you till the end of time I have to do this on my own So here, here I go, here I go