

Mama (Open Your Eyes)

Sarah Blackwood

her suffering comes from deep within she never found it in her soul and then the devil broke in and made himself at home

our father's eyes
they've been paralyzed found his love in a puddle of pills when he came home he better find her some help before she dies alone

pretty darling
won't you figure out what's wrong
just show us a sign
cause mama it ain't your
no it ain't your time
to sit and wonder why
but I won't back down
won't turn around
until I know you're alive

his diamond eyes made her his valentine made a home in her blood and left her on the floor she tried harder this time than she ever had before the light stood still the poison rots her will she looked out the window and said she saw the Lord but even God couldn't help her in this state of war

won't you figure what's wrong

dear mama show us a sign
so ma we know you're alive
