

Turning

Sarah Blackwood

look into a poor man's soul had his heart die too many times saw an old man die by the river bed while his wife wept by his side but that's just the way it goes yea that's just the way it goes

and this world
this world keeps on turning daughter grabs her father's hand says "daddy please don't go!" can't stand to watch that little girl cry can't fall in love with the devil's angel and hope he won't commit no crimes

but that's just the way it goes
yea that's just the way it goes
and this world
this world keeps on turning

ever wonder if there's blue skies ahead at the dead end of a road it an't easy but it'll all make sense someday, someday

cause this world
this world keeps on turning
yea this world
this world keeps on turning
yea this world
this world keeps on turning