All Coming Back

Sarah Blasko

Hopeful tonight, found a disguise You and I never lasted a goodbye Seems to fade, clings to mistakes We remark on the way things have changed

It's all coming back
It's all coming back to me
All clothed in black
Images of you and me, oh

Light up the skies, argue the night To reveal one thing I did was right Patterns are laid, fortunes are made We remark on the way things remain

It's all coming back
It's all coming back to me, oh
All clothed in black
Images of you and me, oh

You're losing sleep tonight How could you want this so badly? Oo, no, not listening

What once was clothed in white Bears the bruise of a burden Oo, not listening, ahh