

Break My Chains

Sarah Connor

Walking down the old road
Walking in my old shoes
You turn to leave
It seems to me
It don't matter to where I to run
I'm knocking on the same door
Gazing an the same clouds
But suddenly it seems to be so different
Feels like a change gonna come
And now I can't wait to take off and fly to the sun

So if you try to stop me now
And if you come to tell me
You will hold me down
It's just because you cannot understand
I've waited all my life
That's why I'll break my chains tonight
I'm gonna break my, break my chains

You tell me that you love me
Tell me that you need me
It ain't the truth
I'm feeling you
Stop make up my mind
And walk straight out the door
I never thought it would be so easy
To turn back no more

So if you try to stop me now
And if you come to tell me
You will hold me down
It's just because you cannot understand
I've waited all my life
That's why I'll break my chains tonight

And if you think
This life's enough
Not more to say
And even worse not more to love
That's just because
I have to spread my wings
And learn how to fly
That's why I break my chains tonight

This is a beginning not the end
And I'm not afraid, I just pretend
'Cause I don't wanna look like I am stronger
Than anyone else here
But I can see my future bright and clear
And I can see my world with no more tears
But tell me what's a chance if you don't take it
There's no use in a plan if you don't make it
If you're tired of a rule, just go out and break it

So if you try to stop me now
And if you come to tell me
You will hold me down

It's just because I have to spread my wings
And learn how to fly
I'm gonna break my chains
Tonight
