

Keep Imagining

Sarah Connor

You're giving me an appetite
With what you're advertising
Atmosphere just seems so right
I feel my temperature rising
Imagining you're here with me
Fulfilling all my fantasies
Touching, loving, holding me
But it's only in my dreams

These are the things
That my heart wants to say to you
These are the things
That my mouth just won't let me do
These are the things
That my mind wish would come true
But for now
I'll just keep imagining
But for now
I'll just keep imagining

My friends ask what's wrong with me
And why I don't just talk to you
It's because I'm so afraid
That you won't feel the way I do
Still I can't help thinking that
You and I could be so cool
But I just can't get the nerve
To say all these things to you

These are the things
That my heart wants to say to you
These are the things
That my mouth just won't let me do
These are the things
That my mind wish would come true
But for now
I'll just keep imagining
But for now
I'll just keep imagining

I can't even front
I never felt this way before
Thoughts of me all over you
Has got me wanting more
Touching me in places hardly no one has ever seen
I don't wanna wait no more
Come bring your love to me
Come bring your love to me
Still I can't help thinking that
You and I would be so cool
To say all of these things to you

These are the things
That my heart wants to say to you
These are the things
That my mouth just won't let me do

These are the things
That my mind wish would come true
But for now
I'll just keep imagining
But for now
