

Jack Of Hearts

Sarah Darling

Guess I saw you coming
But you still took me by surprise
A different man, a different place
But the same look in his eyes

And he looks so good
And he kisses so good
And it feels so good
But it's no good

I'm a once burned, twice shy
Woman with a jaded eye
Wants it all and nothing less
He's a big bright shiny-looking
White knight waiting
With an ice cube in his chest

And his words won't mean a thing
When you're waiting for a king
Why settle for the jack of hearts

You keep me safe and sorry
I just had to take a leap
But in candlelight it's hard to see
That the water's not so deep

And he looks so good (he looks so good)
And he kisses so good (he kisses so good)
And it feels so good
But it's no good

I'm a once burned, twice shy
Woman with a jaded eye
Wants it all and nothing less
He's a big bright shiny-looking
White knight waiting
With an ice cube in his chest

And his words won't mean a thing
When you're waiting for a king

Why settle for the jack of hearts
Tonight I'll play it smart
Won't wake up in his arms
This time

I'm a once burned, twice shy
Woman with a jaded eye
Wants it all and nothing less
He's a big bright shiny-looking
White knight waiting
With an ice cube in his chest

I'm a once burned, twice shy
Woman with a jaded eye
Wants it all and nothing less
He's a big bright shiny-looking

White knight waiting
With an ice cube in his chest
And his words won't mean a thing
When you're waiting for a king
Why settle for the jack of hearts

Why settle for the jack of hearts
