

Counting Waves

Sarah Fimm

Why do you fear change
You're folding in trust
And I'm trying to help you see
Your eyes so fixed and hollow
Only serve, to paralyze this dream

Go on, carry on, I'll be
Counting waves
Go on, carry on, I'll be
Counting waves

When you go near to the edge
You'll see the waters rise
The tide under this moonlit sky
Will pull you out, and take you into

Why do you feel shame
Isn't this love
Cause I'm trying to help you see
Can you not seek to follow
Can you not seek to know
The space between

Go on, carry on, I'll be
Counting waves
Fear not to last
This too shall pass
Love your days

When you go near to the edge
You'll see the waters rise
The tide under this moonlit sky
Will pull you out, and take you into

When everything's locked
And we're trying to find the key
Today is just a shadow
Of what tomorrow could be

Go on, carry on
Be strong
Counting waves
Fear not to last
This too shall pass
Love your days

When you go near to the edge
You'll see the waters rise
The tide under this moonlit sky
Will pull you out, and take you into

When you go near to the edge
You'll see the waters rise
The tide under this moonlit sky
Will pull you out, and take you into