

December

Sarah Fimm

You are the one
Who must go on
Go and tell them
There could've been something better.
I don't have the answer

Beyond the wind
There lies a star
It's waiting for a world to start
No one can remember
We may not see December.

Are we enough
To end the sun?
Like my vision?
Ending in our self-destruction
Shattering our selfish prison.

What can we do?
History has taken over
The same mistake a million times
We're Buried in the dark forever
We may not see December.

There's blood beside the river,
There's murder in the minds of all of us
The sign has been delivered
There is no trust above
Only darkness in the things we love.

What can we do?
Now we have to start all over
The same mistake
A million times
And all the signs are moving so much closer
No one wants to live forever
We may not see December.
