

Red Yellow Sun

Sarah Fimm

Such is the cage that has been offered
Don't hide your face away in melted corners
Shivering early now and often
I am the bird that beats inside the coffin

No cloud obscures this red yellow sun
And I lie alone quietly awake

I will never leave you in this hollow
But I am the bird whose wings you like to borrow
Little did I know you were the silence

No cloud obscures
This red yellow sun
And I lie

No greater god
No greater tether
Our hell and our heaven
Always be together

When love and love become One.
