

Close to My Heart

Sarah Geronimo

Here I am there you are Me on earth and you the star but somehow i feel so close
i feel so close to you

Far away out of sight me by day and you by night
but somehow i feel so close
i feel so close to you

Was it something that i said
That made you look at me
Was there more to you Than what my heart could hope to see Such a world of difference
But only one breath apart However far we may be You're always close to my heart

maybe now, maybe then you'll be here and who knows when still somehow I feel so close
I feel so close to you

But I'm sure deep inside all you love will be my guide that's why I feel so close
I feel so close to you

There is so much in between us how could this love be still it's so much in between us I found you suddenly such a world of difference but only one breath apart
