

Remind Me To Forget You

Sarah Geronimo

Over and over, every night in my dreams
You were lying beside me, close as can be
I know you've gone forever, and there's nothing I can do
Maybe one moment, that's all we had
And there is no one who'll love me like that

But someday what's broken will be mended
And this longing that I feel will fade away

Oh wherever I run to, you follow behind
I can't deny, you're the one reminding me
Time and again, I still want you
Reminding me I need to be strong and go on
Remind me to forget you...
Remind me to forget you

And what I remember are the times that we shined
Not all teardrops that you made me cry

Now I see you never really loved me
Wish I'd only known the truth from all the lies

Oh wherever I run to, you follow behind
I can't deny, you're the one reminding me
Time and again, I still want you
Reminding me I need to be strong and go on
Remind me to forget you...
Remind me to forget you

And if by any chance, you think I'd fall again now
For you that's the last thing I'd do
It's the end of our sad story, so don't tell me you're sorry
All I'm asking you, I'm begging you
Remind me to forget you...

Oh wherever I run to, you follow behind
I can't deny, you're the one reminding me
Time and again, I still want you
Reminding me I need to be strong and go on
Remind me to forget you...
Remind me to forget you
