

Time to Let Go

Sarah Geronimo

I don't see the smile you used to give to me
I don't see the same look in your eyes
I don't know why it's happening to us
I'm loosing you forever so fast

It's hard to keep the pieces of a broken heart and there's no ending, there's no brand new start maybe I just have to face the truth I'm loosing you and there's nothing I can do maybe it's time to let go (It is now time to let go) it's time to move on it is the time to forget what we have shared I just have to learn gettin' over all the days (Is it easy for you gettin' over all the days)

we used to say I Love You...ooohhh
I Love You

Tomorrow is a lonely day that I must face to try and get back on my feet would be a waste for how can i truly live without your love a life without you is not a life at all

There are many questions (many questions) left in my mind
I can't find the answer (Why, O, Why)
But I know It is true
It is time to let go
