

Can't Hide

Sarah Jarosz

Away, away and find your true love
He's gone away, to find a new love

But he don't know, that he runs in vain
And you my dear, will find love again

She cried, come home, my darlin' true love
And you may find, that my heart's made up

And left me here, alone on my own
But through the tears, I know you'll come home

Around the well, this whole world
But you

At last, at last, he's back by her side
This story tells that true love can't hide
